

A Super Role Model

Basema Hashas came to the UK in February 2019. She had very limited English. She was assessed in October and joined an English class with DASH and Kirklees College, which she had to stop in March for Covid-19. In August 2020, she joined This Way 4 English Zoom lessons during lockdown. She is a keen and highly enthusiastic learner.

She took part in several online courses during lockdown, as well as face to face courses before lockdown. She finished high school 20 years ago. Basema is self-motivated and has a positive attitude towards learning. She believes she can extend her knowledge and skills in different areas as well as English language vocabulary, quicker by doing different courses.

Currently, she is attending Kirklees College accredited English Entry level 3, English lesson with This Way 4 English on Thursdays and Prevent training on Fridays. She is also attending English lessons with RCCL and an Interpreting course with WEA.

During these two years she has become very confident in speaking, which she frequently demonstrates in lessons by asking questions without any hesitation, taking an active part in discussions, speeches and presentations with the use of power point
